// WHY THIS EXISTS

The Problem

01

Two Economies, One Headline

There are two economies now: the one that trades the cycle and the one that lives inside it. Most macro commentary is written for the first and ends with a ticker symbol.

02

Operators Have Nowhere To Go

CEOs, CFOs and founders make capex, hiring and pricing calls that hinge on the macro. The research they can find is written for people positioning capital, so the framework never reaches their decisions.

03

Calls Without Invalidation

A thesis is only useful next to the conditions that would break it. Too much research sells the forecast and skips the second half.

We built one framework for both.

One Framework For Both Economies

ENGINE 1

Macro Dynamics

- Labor
- Consumer
- Prices
- Business
- Growth
- Trade
- Housing

ENGINE 2

Monetary Mechanics

- Government
- Financial
- Plumbing

ENGINE 3

Market Structure

- Structure
- Sentiment

Twelve pillars across three engines feed three outputs: a recession probability, a threshold warning system, and a regime classification.

Strong views, weakly held: every thesis ships with the conditions that would break it.

// THE PRODUCT

What Members Get

RESEARCH

Notes	free, chart-led, the front door
The Beam	the tactical read on the print that just hit
The Beacon	long-form, one thesis taken all the way down
The Horizon	the forward view, and where the risk sits
The Chartbook	the data, laid out to be looked at

PHAROS

The Lighthouse Macro Terminal

Research, charts and dashboards in one gated place, built on the same daily pipeline as the research. Included in membership.

// TIMING

Why Now

01

The Policy Regime Changed

Bob's read on Forward Guidance (Blockworks), June 2026: the Fed put era is ending, guidance is thinning out and volatility is rising. In that regime, process matters more than certainty.

02

Infrastructure Got Cheap To Run

One founder runs a daily pipeline of 3,000+ series, 75 indicators and a 30-dashboard terminal. Claude handles data gathering, charting and modeling. The research calls and the writing are Bob's.

03

Expert Research Is A Data Asset

AI developers license expert research, charts, data and code for training. We are in active conversations with buyers and are building a licensing-ready corpus.

RECOGNITION

- Forward Guidance (Blockworks): full episode, June 2026
- Financial Times Alphaville reading list, Nov 2025
- Research promoted by Vítor Constâncio, former ECB Vice-President
- WealthVest Weekly Bull & Bear with Tim Pierotti, Feb 2026
- Less Noise More Signal with Pascal Hügli, Oct 2025

IN THEIR WORDS

"Simply outstanding work that I have not seen elsewhere. This may be the best analysis I've ever read on the k-shaped bifurcation of the US consumer. Absolute masterclass."

Tim Pierotti, Chief Investment Officer, WealthVest

// HOW WE MAKE MONEY

Business Model

Membership

$50 a month or $500 a year. One plan, everything included, Pharos too.

The Watch

$1,500 a year. Every paid benefit plus a quarterly meeting tailored to the member’s topics.

Advisory

Institutional engagements at $450 to $500 an hour, priced per deck or hourly. Operators, advisors, institutions and fractional CIO work.

Data Licensing

Research, charts, data and code licensed to AI training-data buyers. Active conversations, terms under NDA.

// DISTRIBUTION

Go-To-Market

Free Is The Front Door

Every post that pulled double-digit subscribers was free and evergreen. Free framework pieces build the list; paid research keeps it.

Notes And Social

Substack Notes is the top of the funnel: 356 of 922 free subscribers came from Notes. A daily deck of about 20 free charts feeds social.

Earned Media

Forward Guidance, WealthVest, Less Noise More Signal and the FT Alphaville reading list put the work in front of institutional audiences.

Owned Platform

lighthousemacro.com and Pharos run on our own billing. Substack stays the top of the funnel; next is direct outreach for advisory and The Watch.
